The clearances showed a loss in the volume of trade for last year, as re-ported at 55 different cities, amounting to $12,900,000,000, while the year's business of 1894 as compared with that of 1892 shows a decrease of $4,000,000,000.

There are 1,943,268 ldle men in this country today, who were actually enga-ged in labor in 1890. There were over $1,500,000,000 ies wages carned last year than in 1892. Within the last twelve mouths there has been a decrease in business amounting to 477 per cent. and a decrease during the same period in wages of 65 per cent. and a decrease of 61.4 per cent in the number employed. From 320 different employers come answers to questions thus put. They say they are doing with 20,800 less men than in 1892, and pay $8,000,000 less wages. They have also figured upon purchasing $3,500,000,000 less American raw material to manu-facture for the coming year than they did in 1592.
